5 September 1975

MEMORANDUM FOR: Chief, Regulations Control Branch

SUBJECT : Headquarters Regulations Concerning Personnel
Investigation and Protection of Agency Installations

REFERENCE : Memorandum to the Chief, Regulations Control Branch, from the Director of Security, dated 29 July 1975

25X1A

1. Reference memorandum forwarded the Office of Security's proposed inclusion in Headquarters Regulation [] "Personnel Investigations."

2. We note that the proposal by the Office of Security has been approved; however, we submit for your consideration a suggestion that the regulation include a specific reference to the Director's statutory responsibility for the protection of intelligence sources and methods. This is the authority under which the Agency would use proprietary and private investigative firms and since this subject has been given close scrutiny by the congressional committees, it seems best to make clear the authority upon which the activity is based.

PERSONNEL INVESTIGATIONS

The Agency will provide itself with the means to conduct investigations on CIA applicants, employees and other individuals being considered for or holding Agency security approvals or being considered as operational assets. When necessary by virtue of operational and/or cover purposes, the investigations will be done without revealing an Agency and/or U. S. Government interest. This charge, however, is to be accomplished without hiring private investigative firms to conduct the investigation.

PROTECTION OF AGENCY INSTALLATIONS

The Agency will provide itself with the means to protect its installations, both those identified as CIA or U.S. Government and those which by virtue of operational and/or cover purposes may not be identified as CIA or U. S. Government. This charge, however, is to be accomplished without hiring private investigative firms to provide the protection services.
